Toyokawa Inari Shrine (Myogonji Temple)

Toyokawa Inari is known all across the country as a deity that brings prosperity to business. Since its construction roughly 600 years ago, Oda Nobunaga, Toyotomi Hideyoshi and Tokugawa Ieyasu are among the famous generals who worshipped here. During the Edo period, belief in its benefits for business, family safety and prosperity spread country-wide among common people, and these days it still attracts millions of visitors each year.

Historical Village Damine Castle

Shitara Town is brimming with history that can be experienced even now, including Damine Castle, which is said to have been erected in the year 1470. Based on other castles from medieval Japan, Damine Castle's Honmaru Palace and watchtower have been restored atop the structure's remains. At an elevation of 387 meters, the watchtower affords views of the Kansa River and the changing of the mountainous landscape through the seasons. Originally built to offer protection to Damine Castle, Damine Kannon (Yatakasan Koshoji Temple) is also nearby.
